For all Norwegian Cruise Line sailings -
Cancellation up to 90 days before sailing -
100% refund GUARANTEED

- The health and safety of our guests is our priority and we want to give you peace of mind when you are booking with us.
- We will notify our guests well before the final payment date to ensure that if you need to cancel, you will be given a 100% refund (including any administrative fees). There will be NO penalty to you.
- The reason for the penalty being at 90 days prior to the sailing is that we have a very intense shipping schedule whereby we need to send our food, equipment, chinaware and many other provisions to the cruise ships in order to provide the quality of cruise that our guests are accustomed to. The cut-off for these shipments is approximately 3 months prior to each cruise.
- Important: Please do NOT book flights until we get closer to the final payment date. This will ensure that you do not have any additional expenses as we all monitor the situation closely. Your health and safety are the utmost priority and all decisions will be based on that.
